

Lamberti Group Expands Global Footprint with New Subsidiary in Australia

Port Melbourne, Australia – June 9, 2025

Lamberti Group is pleased to announce the formal establishment of its new subsidiary, Lamberti Australia Pty Ltd, marking a significant step in the company's international growth and long-term commitment to serving the agricultural sector with tailored, high-performance solutions.

The new entity commenced operations on March 17, 2025, and officially opened its office in Port Melbourne on June 9, 2025.

“Establishing a local presence in Australia is part of our broader strategy to be closer to our customers and markets. This new subsidiary will enable us to better support local farmers and distributors with innovative products specifically designed for the region's needs” says Fernando Lopez - General Manager of Lamberti Australia.

“The opening of Lamberti Australia underscores the Group's focus on strengthening its Agriculture Division through regional proximity, local expertise, and an efficient operational model” says Ciro Ruggiero - Global Director of the Agriculture Division.

Lamberti Australia Pty Ltd | Level 3, East, Suite 4 262 Lorimer Street | Port Melbourne | VIC 3207 | Australia

The new subsidiary will concentrate on three key product lines:

- Agricultural tank-mix adjuvants including soil wetting agents.
- Turf products specifically designed for Golf courses and Sport fields.
- Inerts ingredients for crop protection formulations.

These solutions will target the needs of Australian agriculture, particularly in areas such as Western Australia, where large-scale cereal and canola farms operate under highly mechanized and water-sensitive conditions.

A Dedicated Local Team

Lamberti Australia will operate with a focused team composed of:

- Fernando Lopez, General Manager
- Chiara Airoidi, Supply Chain Manager
- Justin van Elsen, Technical Sales Manager

The new subsidiary will maintain an appropriate level of local stock to provide customers with a timely service and prompt deliveries.

Lamberti Group is a specialty chemicals global manufacturer headquartered in Italy with plants and affiliates located in North America, Latin America, Europe, India, and Asia Pacific. Through its core technologies, including Polyurethane Dispersions, Oleochemicals, Natural and Synthetic Polymers, Surfactants, Lamberti develops a variety of solutions aimed to improve performing formulations while reducing the environmental impact.

For more information please visit Lamberti.com